(7) Proposers of new or changed courses and subjects are responsible for timely and active consultation with all parties affected by the proposals. Proposals must document the consultation and be submitted in the approved format and systems. Forms, guidelines and critical submission dates are available on the Course and Subject Management intranet page.

(8) Where a minor change in one course constitutes a major change in another course, the highest relevant level procedure must be undertaken.

(9) All major changes with potential to impact student progression within a course must be accompanied by a Transition Plan. The Plan will outline teach-out arrangements, provision for impacted active pathways and in-progress offers from Student Administration where appropriate, and identification of administrative resources required by the relevant School to implement the plan, in accordance with the Guidelines for Transition Planning.

(10) Approval requirements for proposals are determined by the impact of the proposal and, unless a change is deemed administrative, can consist of one or both of the following:

- management approval – this approval is given by the Course Portfolio and Scholarships Committee (CPSC), or in designated cases the New Courses and Majors Sub-Committee (NCMSC), following an assessment of opportunities, needs, capabilities and financial implications of a proposal, and where appropriate a full business case;
- academic approval – this approval is given by a Dean, Coursework Committee and/or Academic Board following an assessment of the academic quality of the course and confirmation of its alignment with the Higher Education Standards 2021.

(11) Where management approval is required for proposals, as outlined in this Procedure, that approval must be secured prior to final academic approval.

(12) Committees may approve or reject proposals or refer submissions back to the submitting school for further action.

Academic Review

Requirements at School Level

(15) Coursework Committee will consider the quality of course and subject design, as well as compliance with University policies and external regulatory requirements of proposals.

(16) Courses are approved by Academic Board for a maximum period of seven years from the date of the relevant meeting. Courses may only be re-approved as an outcome of a Course Review as outlined in the Course and Subject Management Procedure - Monitoring and Review.

- b. academic approval: the Dean or nominee should present the submission to the relevant committee Chair with a memo explaining the circumstances of the request.

(27) Outcomes of out-of-session submissions are included in the agenda and minutes of the subsequent committee meeting as items for ratification.

Part D - Attainment of CRICOS Registration

(28) Recruitment & International Operations is responsible for obtaining CRICOS Registration for a new course or course instance as applicable.

(29) Where a course is delivered as part of a third-party teaching arrangement, CRICOS registration will not be sought until a formal agreement with the external provider has been executed.

(30) A course cannot be advertised to international students who are to be onshore for its delivery prior to attainment of its CRICOS registration.

Part E - Professional Recognition

(31) Where recognition by a professional body is attained and/or required, Deans or their nominees are responsible for ensuring that:

- a. the applicable form of professional recognition for the course in question is gained and maintained;
- b. where revisions or closure of a course are approved, either:
 - i. the course continues to be recognised by the relevant body until the current cohort of students have completed; or
 - ii. arrangements have been made and approved for students to transition into a recognised course.

(32) Deans or their nominees are responsible for ensuring that all relevant documentation relating to professional recognition, including copies of all submissions, reports, action plans, and correspondence with the professional body is submitted to the Quality and Standards Division as soon as practicable.

(33) Schools will assume the costs associated with professional recognition processes relevant to their courses.

(34) Unless otherwise required by the professional body, the signatory to all submissions will be the relevant Dean.

(35) The Quality and Standards Division maintains a central record of all confirmed course professional recognitions, including expiry dates and approved text for publication. Deans of School or their nominees are responsible for ensuring that all details of their school's courses are accurate.

(36) Requests for changes to the approved text for professional recognition, including any variation from the standard formats listed in the Schedule - Professional Recognition Approved Wording, must be provided to the Quality and Standards Division for review and approval prior to any publication.

(37) The Quality and Standards Division will liaise with each school prior to the expiry of the current recognition of affected courses to ensure that any necessary changes in published claims are applied prior to these coming into effect.

Part F - Student Communications and Transition

(38) All students have a right to timely notice of all major changes to courses. This includes students who:

- a. have been made an offer for a course;
- b. have been admitted to a course;
- c. are on Leave of Absence or who have been suspended from their course.

(39) For major changes, analysis must be undertaken by the Course Coordinator to determine whether all or some students may be moved to the changed course version without detrimental effect to the substance of their educational experience or outcomes. Where it is intended that students transfer to a changed course version, student consultation activities and outcomes must be documented in the proposal (see Guidelines for Transition Planning), prior to submission to Coursework Committee.

(40) Where it is proposed to close or suspend intakes for a course for which there is a formal articulation agreement the University is bound to teach out the course or to provide a viable alternative and to notify pathway partners and students of the change.

(41) In the case of onshore international students, failure to provide a full teach-out or alternative in these circumstances will result in the University being in Provider Default – having made an offer to students that is no longer being honoured. Where this occurs, these students are entitled to compensation and additional financial penalties apply under ESOS legislation. Schools are responsible for the payment of any such financial penalties.

Part G - Publication

(42) Publication occurs following final approval and finalisation of the record in the Course Management System.

(43) Content for standard publications is drawn directly from the Course Management System. Additional descriptive materials, approved by the school owning the course, may be developed for publication purposes, both in digital and print channels. Such materials must reflect the approved course and/or subject.

(44) In exceptional circumstances, and normally following Coursework Committee endorsement, the University's intent to offer a new course(s) may be advertised with approval in writing from the Director, Higher Education Standards. Advertising implying that a course is open for applications may not be undertaken for any course prior to its approval by Academic Board.

Part H - Quality Assurance of Course Data and Information

(45) Proposals for courses and their components within the Course Management System, including subjects, majors, minors and specialisations, are reviewed to ensure data accuracy, quality and compliance by the Course Management Team and the respective academic governance committees. Actions are taken to remediate any identified issues prior to the proposal either progressing or being completed.

(46) The Course Management Team undertake periodic audits of approved data held within the Course Management System to ensure consistency and ongoing compliance.

(47) To maintain accuracy of other course material the Chief Marketing Officer is responsible for ensuring that bi-annual scheduled checks are undertaken before each application period opens.

(48) Where issues are identified within the approved information published to students from the Course Management System remediation may include one or more of the following measures:

- a. editorial issues are immediately rectified within the system by the Course Management Team, with oversight from the Senior Manager, Course Management;
- b. all other issues are initially investigated by the Senior Manager, Course Management prior to being referred to the Director, Quality and Standards, who may consult the relevant Associate Dean (Learning and Teaching) or other relevant Directors as part of remediation.

(49) Any amendments approved in the Course Management System flow straight through to the Find a Course site on the La Trobe website.

(50) Responsibility for the remediation of any issues identified with other course information is the responsibility of the manager of the relevant area.

(51) Following any update or remediation of course information:

- a. students are provided with advice about any updated information where required;
- b. actions are taken to rectify any enrolment or other impacts experienced by affected students.
